The Eco-club planned an educational and environmental awareness trip on February 15th, 2023, for students from various streams of the college to the Asola Bhatti Wildlife Sanctuary in New Delhi. The sanctuary's lush green surroundings were visited by about 15 students. The staff at Asola Bhatti Wildlife Sanctuary planned the "Nature Trail" and discussed the value of plants for medicine and the ecological significance of insects. The students also saw the "Insect House," a very original idea created for the first time in India to attract a variety of insects as well as various animal species. Students should primarily visit a wildlife sanctuary to learn about how animals in captivity are treated. The animals are looked after and given space to live calmly in their natural habitats. It was a lively educational visit made possible by lots of enthusiasm and interactive participation.
