ABOUT THE FDP

Viksit Bharat @2047 is the vision to make India a developed nation by 2047, the 100th year of independence i.e. the Era of Amrit Kaal. The vision encompasses various aspects of development, including economic growth, social progress, environmental sustainability, and good governance. On December 11, 2023, when PM launched 'Viksit Bharat @2047: Voice of Youth', it has been reinforced that this is the period in the history of India when the country is going to take a quantum leap. India is heading to attain a GDP of $5 Trillion from the existing $3.5 Trillion. The New Governance Model has already been in place with the series of successful grassroot level schemes from Swachh Bharat Abhiyan to Direct Benefit Transfer(DBT). Alongwith the Digital India Campaign, Sustainable Development Goals(SDGs), and resilience during the pandemic, the progression further extends to the successful hosting of the G20 summit which led to the advent of the "New Governance Model". The key aspect of this New Governance Model is streamlining government processes and practices to focus more on the needs and convenience of citizens. The government exists to serve the citizens and is involved in all aspects of nation-building. These efforts signify the creation of a transformative connection between the public and the government.

Today, youth power is both the agent of change and also the beneficiary of change. In envisioning a transformative, innovative, and prosperous Bharat by 2047, proactive governance emerges as a cornerstone for the "Viksit Bharat". This vision demands an administration that is not only responsive but also anticipatory in its approach, ensuring that the policies and strategies implemented today lay the foundation for a developed nation tomorrow. Proactive governance for Viksit Bharat requires an in-depth understanding of emerging trends, societal needs, and technological advancements. Proactive governance is a critical concept that emphasizes taking pre-emptive and forward-thinking measures to address challenges and opportunities, rather than merely reacting to events as they unfold. This approach is crucial in various domains, including politics, business, and public administration. There are several grounds highlighting the importance of proactive governance: innovation and adaptability, visionary planning, resource optimization, conflict prevention and resilience to external shocks. It involves forecasting future challenges and opportunities, thereby enabling the government to prepare and adapt in advance. Such foresight is crucial in areas like education, healthcare, infrastructure, and technology, ensuring that India remains on the cutting edge of development. Moreover, proactive governance nurtures an environment where the youth, the primary drivers of tomorrow's India, are not just beneficiaries but active participants in shaping the nation's destiny. By integrating their innovative ideas and energetic potential into national planning, Viksit Bharat becomes a shared vision and collective journey.

This approach also necessitates a robust feedback mechanism, where citizen engagement and public opinion shape policy decisions. Transparency, accountability, and innovation become the fundamental pillars of governance, ensuring that every step taken is aligned with the long-term goal of a developed, inclusive, and forward-looking India. The proactive governance is the key to unlocking India's potential in its journey towards Viksit Bharat by 2047. It ensures that the nation is always a step ahead, ready to embrace the future with confidence and competence.
