Teacher-In-Charge/Convenor: Dr. Bharat Bhushan Garg

Introduction

Economica'26, the annual fest of the Economics Society, was successfully conducted on April 24th, 2026. As a one-day academic and cultural event, it brought together participants from various institutions to engage in intellectually stimulating competitions, policy discussions, and creative showcases.

The fest commenced with an inaugural ceremony held in the Seminar Hall. The ceremony began with the traditional lamp-lighting, symbolizing the pursuit of knowledge and wisdom. Esteemed faculty members, including the convenor, Dr. Bharat Garg, our guest speaker, Mr. Shailender Kumar, along with the organizing committee, graced the occasion and marked the formal beginning of the event.

Following this, the convenor addressed the gathering and the organizing team provided a brief overview of the scheduled events, building enthusiasm among participants. With activities spanning the Seminar Hall, Resource Room, and Porch Area, the fest offered a balanced mix of academic rigor and engaging experiences throughout the day.

Event Reports

Speaker Session: National Seminar

- Time: 11:00 AM
- Venue: Seminar Hall, SLC
- Teacher Incharge: Dr. Bharat Garg
- Faculty Members: 12
- Organizing Team: 26
- Participants: 50+

The speaker session of Economica'26 commenced with a National Seminar titled “Marching of the Indian Economy Towards the Goal of Viksit Bharat@2047.” The session was delivered by Mr. Shailender Kumar, Associate Professor at the Institute for Studies in Industrial Development (ISID), New Delhi.

The seminar focused on India’s growth trajectory and the vision of transforming the nation into a developed economy by the year 2047. The speaker provided an in-depth analysis of the structural changes required across key sectors, including industrial development, policy reforms, and sustainable growth strategies. Emphasis was laid on the role of innovation, governance, and inclusive development in achieving long-term economic goals.

Mr. Kumar also highlighted the challenges that lie ahead, such as income inequality, employment generation, and global economic uncertainties, while suggesting practical approaches to address them. His insights offered a balanced perspective on both opportunities and constraints in India’s development journey.

The session witnessed active participation from students and attendees, who engaged in thoughtful discussions and posed insightful questions. The interactive nature of the seminar enhanced its impact, making it both informative and engaging.

Overall, the seminar successfully set an intellectual tone for the fest, encouraging participants to critically analyze contemporary economic issues and reflect on India’s future growth prospects.

Econclave: Paper Presentation

- Venue: Seminar Hall, SLC
- Teacher Incharge: Dr. Jitendra Kumar, Ms. Priyambada Gupta, Dr. Bisla Devi
- Event Head: Parul Choudhary
- Final Day Participants: 16

Econclave, the paper presentation event of Economica'26, was a highly engaging and intellectual competition centered around the theme “Economics Beyond Numbers.” The event brought together participants from various institutions who showcased their research, analytical abilities, and understanding of economics beyond conventional statistical interpretation.

Participants presented well-researched papers on a wide range of contemporary economic issues, exploring the social, political, and human dimensions associated with economic policies and development. The presentations reflected originality, critical thinking, and a strong grasp of theoretical as well as practical perspectives.

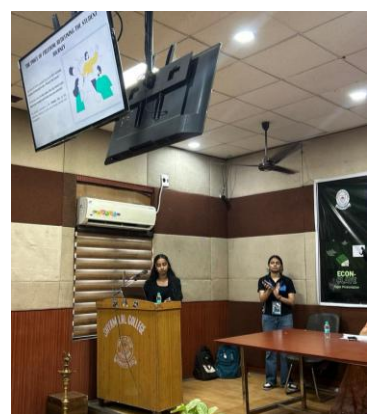

The event also featured interactive discussions and question-answer sessions, where participants defended their arguments and responded to insightful queries from the judges and audience.

Winners

- Winner: Prince Sarthak (Hindu College)
- 1st Runner Up: Arohan Tewatia (Shaheed Bhagat Singh College)
- 2nd Runner Up: Parvathy Ajith (Shyam Lal College- Morning)

Econclave successfully provided a platform for students to express ideas, strengthen research skills, and engage in meaningful academic discourse. The event highlighted the importance of economics as a multidimensional discipline extending beyond numbers and statistics.

U

MandateX: Policy Recommendation

- Time: 12:30 PM
- Venue: Resource Room, SLC
- Teacher Incharge: Dr. Supriti Mishra, Dr. Jyoti Atri, Mr. Sanjeev Kumar
- Event Head: Mishty Goyal
- Final Day Participants: 2

Mandate X, the policy recommendation competition of Economica'26, was a highly engaging and intellectually stimulating event that challenged participants to formulate practical solutions to contemporary economic issues. Centered around the theme “Crude Realities: Designing India’s Policy Response to Geopolitical Conflicts and Oil Price Shocks,” the event encouraged participants to analyze the impact of global conflicts and fluctuating crude oil prices on the Indian economy.

Participants presented well-researched policy recommendations addressing concerns such as inflation, trade disruptions, and economic stability. The competition witnessed diverse perspectives and innovative ideas, with participants critically examining both short-term and long-term policy measures to tackle the challenges arising from global oil market uncertainties.

Winner

- Winner: Team Rocket (Chinmay Kr. Singh, Harsh Gupta) [Shyam Lal College (Evening)]
- 1st Runner Up: Team Illuminati (Raghav Mittal, Tanmay Bhadauria) (Zakir Husain College)

The event also featured interactive discussions and questioning sessions, where participants defended their recommendations with strong economic reasoning and analytical insights. Mandate X successfully provided a platform for policy analysis, critical thinking, and informed debate, making it one of the most thought-provoking events of Economica'26.

Case 404: Trailer Competition

- Time: 9:30 AM
- Venue: Seminar Hall, SLC
- Teacher Incharge: Mr. Aakash Kumar Soni, Ms. Kavita Meena, Dr. Deepika Kumari
- Event Head: Vishu Naruka
- Total Teams: 2
- Team Members: 4-5 Members per team

Case 404, the trailer-making competition of Economica'26, provided participants with a creative platform to showcase their storytelling, editing, and cinematic skills. Based on the theme “The Unknown File,” the event revolved around a mysterious document discovered on campus that changes everything, encouraging participants to build suspenseful and engaging narratives around the concept.

Teams presented uniquely conceptualized trailers, combining creativity, visual storytelling, sound design, and editing techniques to bring their ideas to life. Each entry explored different interpretations of the mystery, ranging from thriller and sci-fi themes to psychological and investigative narratives, making the competition highly dynamic and entertaining.

Winners

- Winner: Cinepat (Satyawati College)
- Runner-up: Falcon Films (Shyam Lal College – Morning)

The event witnessed enthusiastic participation and impressive creative execution, with teams demonstrating originality and technical expertise in filmmaking. Case 404 successfully highlighted the imaginative potential of participants and added a vibrant creative element to Economica'26.

Traitors: Blind Games

- Time: 11:00 AM
- Venue: Porch Area, SLC
- Teacher Incharge: Ms. Suman Rani, Ms. Ashani Dhar
- Event Head: Sai Bhardwaj, Gagan Deep Kaur
- Participants: 22

Traitors, the blind games event of Economica'26, was one of the most exciting and engaging parallel events of the fest. Inspired by the popular game Among Us, the event was designed as a real-life adaptation that challenged participants to navigate through strategy, deception, teamwork, and survival. The game created an immersive and interactive environment where participants had to rely on communication, observation, and logical reasoning to progress through different stages of the competition.

Participants were assigned different roles, with some secretly acting as “traitors” while others worked collectively to identify them and complete assigned tasks. The event involved intense discussions, unexpected eliminations, and strategic gameplay, keeping both participants and spectators constantly engaged. As the rounds progressed, the suspense and unpredictability of the game added to the excitement, making every decision crucial for survival.

Winners

- Winner: Aditi Singh
- 1st Runner-up: Aneet Jain

The event witnessed enthusiastic participation and constant audience engagement, making it a major highlight of the fest. Traitors successfully combined entertainment with strategic gameplay, providing participants with a memorable and interactive experience during Economica'26.

Closing Ceremony: A Successful Conclusion

Economica'26 concluded on a celebratory note with a vibrant closing ceremony that brought together faculty members, judges, participants, and the organizing team to celebrate the success of the fest. The ceremony featured the distribution of awards and trophies to the winners of various events, recognizing their exceptional performances and contributions throughout the day. Appreciation gifts were also presented to the judges and faculty members as a token of gratitude for their guidance, support, and encouragement.

The celebration continued with a cake-cutting ceremony, symbolizing the spirit of teamwork and collective effort that defined Economica'26. The event concluded with memorable group photo sessions involving faculty members, organizers, and participants, capturing the enthusiasm, camaraderie, and success of the fest. The closing ceremony marked a fitting end to a day filled with learning, creativity, and collaboration.
