CERTIFICATE COURSE IN STOCK SELECTION THROUGH FUNDAMENTAL & TECHNICAL ANALYSIS

About the Course:

It was started by CSD in year 2018-19 in collaboration with BSE Institute Ltd. Fundamental and technical analysis are two common ways to sort and pick stocks. How and when to use them can be a matter of personal style, but each has its strengths. Fundamental analysis attempts to identify stocks offering strong growth potential at a good price by examining the underlying company's business, as well as conditions within its industry or in the broader economy. Technical analysis, on the other hand, bypasses the underlying company's fundamentals and instead looks for statistical patterns on stock charts that might foretell future price moves. The idea here is that stock prices already reflect all the publicly available information about a particular company, so there's nothing to be gained from poring over a balance sheet, income statement, or other financial information.
