A National level competition, participation of more than 300 teams, and E-CELL SLC made it to the top 10.

Saksham, the E-CELL of IIM Udaipur, organised Saudagar, a B-Plan competition during their annual management fest, Solaris'18.

After clearing 2 arduous rounds, a team of 2 members was sent to IIM Udaipur to participate in the 3rd round of Saudagar, Solaris'18 which occurred on 3rd and 4th of November.

On the 3rd of November, the teams pitched in their own ideas, and bid on other team's ideas. On 4th of November, the teams pitched the idea they bought from the auction the day before.

The 3 ideas our team pitched were Zorgo, Food Fellow and Infollege. Zorgo even received positive reviews and appraisal directly from the judges.

Our team competed with the teams from a few major Business Schools of India and emerged as one tough contender.

- Project FOOD FELLOW, which will bridge the gap between food wastage and surplus available.
- Project DISHA, a digital interface accessible on any phone or computer where college students can reach professionals who will provide real-time solutions to their problems and queries through a personalized platform.
- Project SWABHIMAN, aims to donate pads to give freedom from rags by making people aware of the side effects and installing Sanitary Napkin Vending Machine.
- Project ZORGO, which provides a platform for people who wants to share their heart out without any fear.
- Project INFOLLEGE, which will be a platform where students can upload and retrieve any data relevant to their college/school. Kind of a social media app for colleges.

certain handicraft products mainly Diaries, Bookmark, Paper bags and more.
