Enactus SLC started its new session of 2021-22 with its orientation program for all the college freshers, to let them know about the Enactus as a college society. The whole of the orientation was carried out online on the Google Meet platform. The program received a good response, crossing over 100 participants. Our conveyor, Dr. Bharat Bhushan, took forward the session, sharing the brief history of the college and the society. Besides, the team members threw light on the mission, the current and upcoming projects, and the major achievements of the society in the past. Apart from introducing the Enactus SLC to freshers, the functioning of other societies was too made familiar, while simultaneously directing the interested students to the respective society's social media handles. At last, the students' queries and doubts about joining the team were taken up, with the team members providing satisfying answers to the crowd.

The orientation program caused an increase in the overall knowledge of freshers, not just making them aware of team Enactus, but about the whole of the co-curricular and extracurricular activities run in the college.
