1. Event Overview

A workshop on “Research Paper Writing and Journal Publication Support” was organized to provide students with a basic understanding of research writing and the process of publishing research work. The session focused on guiding students on how to structure a research paper and the importance of research in academic and professional growth.

The workshop aimed to make students aware of different types of research articles and the steps involved in writing and publishing quality research papers.

2. Objective

The objective of the workshop was to provide participants with a clear understanding of research writing and publication. The session aimed to:

- ~ Introduce the concept and importance of research in higher education
- ~ Explain the structure and types of research articles
- ~ Guide students on how to write a research paper step by step
- ~ Create awareness about journal selection and publication process
- ~ Encourage students to develop research-oriented thinking

3. Introduction

The workshop commenced with the Saraswati Vandana, followed by the Delhi University Kulgeet, creating a positive and respectful academic environment. The event witnessed active participation from faculty members and students.

The session was organized by the Institution’s Innovation Council (IIC) in collaboration with IQAC, Shyam Lal College (University of Delhi). The introduction highlighted the importance of research skills and academic writing for students in today’s learning environment.

4. Session Highlights

During the session, Dr. Kanika Solanki explained the importance of research in higher education and how the National Education Policy (NEP) 2020 encourages interdisciplinary learning, flexibility in courses, and the development of research skills among students. She also discussed the role of the National Research Foundation (NRF) in promoting research culture and providing support and funding for research activities in institutions.

She introduced the concept of research articles and explained that a research article is a detailed written report of a study conducted on a particular topic. She discussed the basic structure of a research paper, including title, abstract, introduction, methodology, results, discussion, conclusion, and references. The session also covered different types of research articles such as full papers, review articles, communications, perspectives, and case studies.

Dr. Solanki further explained the process of writing a research paper, starting from identification of a topic, literature review, selection of methodology, and organizing the content. She highlighted important aspects of review articles, communication papers, and perspective articles, explaining their purpose, structure, and importance in academic research.

She also guided students on the publication process, including selection of a suitable journal based on subject area, impact factor, and publication requirements. She explained how to write an effective cover letter and emphasized the importance of presenting the novelty and contribution of the research work clearly.

The session concluded with key points to keep in mind while writing a research article, such as keeping the title clear and informative, writing a concise abstract, presenting proper methodology, and ensuring clarity in results and discussion. The overall session was informative and helped students understand the basics of research writing and publication.

5. Outcome & Impact

- Students gained a basic understanding of research writing and publication
- Participants learned about different types of research articles and their structure
- Awareness about journal selection and publication process increased
- The session encouraged students to explore research and academic writing
- Students developed interest in research-based learning and innovation

6. Acknowledgements

We sincerely thank Dr. Kanika Solanki for delivering an informative and insightful session on research paper writing and journal publication. We are grateful to Prof. Rabi Narayan Kar, Prof. Kusha Tiwari, and Dr. Saubhagyalaxmi Singh for their guidance and continuous support.
