ACADEMIC YEAR (2018-2019)

A Talk on “Indian National Movement”, 15th April, 2019

The Department of History, SLC organized an academic event as a part of farewell function to the final year students by organizing a talk on 15th April 2019 in the seminar Hall. The talk was organized to commemorate 100 years of Jallianwala bagh massacre. Dr. Pravin Kumar, Principal, SLC (E) and specialist in Modern Indian history was invited to deliver a talk on the broad topic “Indian National Movement”. The aim of the talk was to enlighten students about various trends of anti-colonial struggle in colonial India and complex developments leading to communal violence and Partition on the one hand and the making of constitution of India on the other. The Teacher-In-Charge, Dr. Priyanka Thakur welcomed the guest speaker of the day, Dr. Pravin Kumar for taking time out of his busy schedule to deliver the lecture to the students of History Department. There were 100 participants who attended the lecture. Dr. Pravin Kumar began his lecture by throwing light on the concept of Nation, Nationalism and it’s various connotations in the Colonial period. He discussed the broad spectrum of trends represented by the Indian National Congress, the revolutionary terrorism, Muslim league and Hindu Mahasabha, social reform movement led by Ambedkar, and various subaltern movements. He informed the students of the new emerging historiography and how nationalism actually led to the emergence of a unified India. He further, highlighted the need to have a thorough knowledge of the historical processes in order to better understand the causes and effects of many of the social problems of the present day society. The talk was highly thought provoking and elicited numerous questions from students which made the session highly rewarding. The vote of thanks was delivered by senior faculty Dr. Gayatri Chaturvedi on behalf of the Department of History, SLC(M) to Dr. Praveen and the students for turning up in large numbers to listen about one of the very interesting but highly complex part of Indian History.
