- 11:10 AM – 12:30 PM: Keynote Session – Adapting Career Paths in a Dynamic Job Market
  - Mr. Chauhan shared his professional journey from hospitality to banking and business development, highlighting adaptability, continuous learning, and leveraging transferable skills.
  - Discussed aligning academic knowledge with industry needs, networking effectively, and embracing change.
- 12:30 PM – 12:50 PM: Interactive Discussion
  - Students engaged with the speaker, asking about career transitions, industry-specific skills, and work–life balance.
- 12:50 PM – 1:00 PM: Vote of Thanks.

Key Takeaways

1. Career adaptability and upskilling are essential to remain competitive.
2. Networking plays a vital role in creating professional opportunities.
3. Pursuing personal passions alongside work can enrich overall career satisfaction.

Feedback

- Positive Feedback: Students appreciated the relevance of Mr. Chauhan’s real-world examples and the motivational tone of his talk.
- Suggestions for Improvement: Some students expressed interest in a follow-up workshop focusing on practical skill-building for interviews and resume writing.

Conclusion

The Career Guidance Seminar successfully met its objective of equipping students with actionable strategies and a broader perspective on career planning. Mr. Chauhan’s engaging storytelling and practical insights left attendees motivated to approach their professional journeys with flexibility, confidence, and purpose. The Economics Society looks forward to organizing more such sessions to support students in their career development.
