Performance by Aarodhya The Indian Dance Society in collaboration with Aarodhya -Western Dance Society was in honor of the soil of our country, and it is the responsibility of every citizen to show dedication and capability towards their country. Choreography was done by the team heads of both of the societies JhalakAchra , Arti and Bhuvi.

"My soil, my country" – this fundamental mantra unites the citizens of our country and propels us towards greater heights of national achievement. This soil is a symbol of the sacrifices of our ancestors, who turned it into the land of their dreams. It encapsulates the valor of our brave soldiers, the hard work of our farmers, and the aspirations of our youth. Our soil is our culture, our history, and our future. It holds a unique beauty that constantly inspires us to strive for the development and progress of our nation.
