Our society enthusiastically participated in the prestigious 'Combuzz' fest organized by the Commerce Society of Shyam Lal College, University of Delhi on April 18, 2024. This event served as a significant platform for us to showcase our dedication to social innovation through three impactful projects: 'Pawshaak', designed to provide warmth, protection, and toys for dogs and cats; 'Sahajsmitta', promoting oral hygiene with sustainable bamboo toothbrushes as an alternative to plastic; and 'Swarnkriti', aimed at revitalizing traditional handicrafts and supporting artisans with sustainable livelihoods.

Our day commenced early at 10 AM as we promptly set up our stalls. Logistics involved a nominal fee of 500 rupees to secure our stall space, an investment that proved invaluable. Throughout the day, our dedicated team engaged with attendees, showcasing our projects' impact and raising awareness about environmental sustainability and social responsibility. Our stall became a focal point of the event, attracting a diverse audience interested in learning about and supporting our initiatives.

One of the highlights of our participation was the successful sales revenue generated, amounting to approximately 1400 rupees. This not only covered our initial stall costs but also allowed us to reinvest in our projects and expand our reach within the community. Beyond financial gains, the fest provided invaluable networking opportunities, connecting us with like-minded individuals, potential collaborators, and supporters passionate about making a positive difference in society.

As the day progressed, our team's efforts were underscored by the positive feedback and engagement we received from attendees. At 3 PM, as the fest drew to a close, we reflected on the impactful interactions and connections made throughout the day. Our participation in Combuzz was not just about showcasing our projects but also about reinforcing our commitment to creating sustainable change and fostering a sense of social responsibility among the youth.

The collective dedication and hard work of our team made Combuzz 2024 a resounding success for our society. It was a testament to our belief in the power of social entrepreneurship to address pressing societal issues and drive meaningful impact. Moving forward, we are inspired to continue innovating, collaborating, and leading initiatives that contribute positively to our community and beyond.
